Gallup Police Detective Chavo Chischilly is looking for a local teen who was last seen earlier this week.

Fifteen-year-old Shenyah Shorty was last seen Jan. 23 around 7:45 am on Refuge Rock Road at her cousin's house, possibly with a male named "Niron."

Shorty is described as having long brown hair that is currently colored dark green and black. She was wearing all black at the time and stands five-feet-two-inches-tall, weighing 160 pounds.

Niron is thought to be in the Piñon Hills area, because of a snapchat post seen at 8:40 pm on Jan. 24. But he was not seen in person. A report from the Police Department said Niron could also be a student, but no last name was given.

Information about Shorty's whereabouts can be directed to Metro Dispatch at (505) 722-2231 or to Det. Chavo Chischilly at (505) 863-1321 or at (505) 979-0168.
