

State police to up DWI Checkpoints, Saturation Patrol in 2017

Written by By NM State Police
Friday, 30 December 2016 11:04

STATEWIDE – State Police will be conducting Sobriety Checkpoints, Saturation Patrols, and Registration, Insurance and Drivers' License Checkpoints in all New Mexico counties during the month of January 2017.

We are bringing awareness to this, in an effort to reduce alcohol related fatalities, through continued media attention and intensive advertising. These checkpoints are helping to change society's attitude about drinking and driving.

People are choosing to not drink and drive. This is the biggest step in keeping impaired drivers from crashing into our friends and families.

Hundreds of lives could be saved each year if every driver had the courage to make the right decision.

Who:

New Mexico State Police

State police to up DWI Checkpoints, Saturation Patrol in 2017

Written by By NM State Police
Friday, 30 December 2016 11:04

What:

Sobriety Checkpoints, Saturation Patrols and Registration/Insurance/DL Checkpoints

When:

January 2017

Where:

All New Mexico Counties

Why:

So we can ENDWI in New Mexico

By NM State Police